DISAPPEARED AT SEA.

Mysterious Fate of Some of Our War Vessels.

Curious disappearances and accidents to our warships characterize the early history of our navy, writes Geo. Ethelbert Walsh, in Leslie's Weekly and, in spite of the efforts of the navy department to explain the cause of the disasters, many of them are as absolute mysteries today as when they happened.

When the government built ten new gunboats to prosecute the war with Tripoli, in 1805, they were sent out as soon as they were finished and before they were named. Each one was given a number and dispatched to the scene of the war. Number 7 sailed on June 20, 1805, from New York, under the command of Lieut. Ogilvie and, after she cleared Sandy Hook light, was never heard from again. She went down with all on board.

A most extraordinary accident was that which happened to the corvette Monongahela at Santa Cruz, in 1867. While at anchor in the harbor a tremendous tidal wave lifted her upon the crest and carried her clean over the town of Frederichstadt and back again without injuring the town or the ship to any great extent. The receding wave landed her on the beach instead of in the deep waters of the harbor, and it cost our government $100,000 to float her.

Fully as strange was the fate of the sloop-of-war Wateree. She was anchored in the harbor of Arica, Peru, in 1868, when a huge tidal wave swept inland, flooding the whole city. The wave carried the sloop several miles inland and finally landed her in the midst of a tropical forest. It was impossible to release her from such a peculiar position and the government sold her for a nominal sum. The purchasers turned the vessel into a hotel and the remains of the once formidable war vessel loom up in the tropical forest today as a monument to the powers of tidal waves.

Among other cases of disaster which are attributed to the violence of the waves or weather, there is none more interesting than that of the strange fate of the Saratoga. When she sailed from Philadelphia in October in 1780 under the command of Capt. James Young, there was no finer or handsomer vessel afloat. That she was as formidable as she was attractive she soon demonstrated in a practical way. After cruising around a short time she captured three British vessels in succession, and then, with her prizes, she started to return to Philadelphia. Off the Delaware capes she encountered a British ship of line. As the Saratoga carried only eighteen guns and the Intrepid was a seventy-four gun ship, Captain Young considered it safe to run away. The enemy did not chase her far, but returned to protect and recapture the British prizes. The Saratoga sailed away in the very teeth of a storm and she was never heard from again. Did she founder at sea in the gale or was she blown up by her own magazines?

There are some peculiar accidents to our naval vessels in the past that are accounted for, but, while the mystery of their loss is removed and explained, the strangeness of their mishaps is no less interesting. For instance, there is the sinking of the United States sloop-of-war Onondaga in 1869. She was bound home from Yokohama, but when a short distance from port the British steamer Bombay ran into her and cut off her stern. The injury was so mortal that the Onondaga immediately fired her guns at distress, but in the darkness the Bombay crept away, instead of returning to assist her. In a short time the sloop went to the bottom, carrying all of her crew with her. When the news reached Yokohama the captain of the British steamer was mobbed by the indignant populace and he was dismissed from the service in disgrace.

Hurricanes have been responsible for the wreckage of several of our naval vessels other than those at Samoa in 1899. The brig-of-war Bainbridge was turned over by a hurricane off Cape Hatteras in 1863, and everybody on board was lost except a colored cook, who managed to cling to pieces of the wreck until picked up. Ninety-eight lives were lost by the wrecking of the sloop-of-war Huron in 1877. A small hurricane blew her on the shore off Norfolk, and she was pounded to pieces by the violent surf. The Saginaw was wrecked in the very middle of the Pacific in 1870.

Ladies are offered a very special bargain at Thacker & Brockmann's this week. They advertise a line of Plant's finest $2.50 chocolate kid, laced shoes at $1.98 pair and a line of dark tan laced shoes, almost as fine, at $1.69. The sizes in these are somewhat broken, but by acting promptly you may secure a pair.

SPAIN ASKS FOR WOODFORD

Wants Him For One of The Peace Commissioners.

PORTO RICAN MARCH CONTINUES

General Miles Says The Advance Will Be Made on San Juan Regardless of Peace Terms.

Santiago, Aug. 6.—The steamer San Juan, which went to Manzanillo under a flag of truce to get the families of Spanish officers who reinforced Gen. Linarés here before the capitulation treaty, returned today bringing 38 persons.

The San Juan was piloted into the harbor by this under a flag of truce. The commander found everything peaceful. There are no complaints of hunger.

It appears that the Purissima Concepcion, which was destroyed here by the Americans, succeeded in landing over half of her cargo.

General Shafter yesterday appointed a special board to inspect the men prior to their embarkation. That board began its work today at the headquarters of the cavalry division, which will embark this afternoon.

CASTELLO WANTS WOODFORD.

Paris, August 6.—At the suggestion of Castello, the Spanish government has asked the United States through Cambon, to appoint General Woodford, former minister to Spain, as one of the peace commissioners; also that after signing preliminary contract, negotiations shall be conducted in Paris. Castello knows that Ambassador Porter helped to block the Spanish loan in Paris, hence his desire to confer with General Woodford.

WILL MARCH ANYHOW.

Ponce, August 5.—Nobody hereafter by order of General Miles, may communicate with Spanish towns. Officials of the artillery have been commanded to be ready to advance.

The peace negotiations, says General Miles, will not effect the march of American troops to San Juan. The advance is held up waiting for wagons.

A transport loaded with rifles was sunk in the harbor today. The troopship Massachusetts floated off the reef on which she was stuck, at noon today.

MOVEMENT MANILAWARD.

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—Gen. King announces his intention of sailing with his troops on the transport Arizona next week. Col. Loper, of the Fifty-first Iowa volunteers, has been advised that his regiment will be called upon to do service in Manila.

FEAR BOMBARDMENT.

Key West, Aug. 6.—It is learned that the city of Cienfuegos is in constant dread of bombardment and is being rapidly deserted by the inhabitants.

CORBIN TO SHAFER.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Adjutant Gen. Corbin has wired Gen. Shafter to ship the Seventy-first New York regiment north at the first possible moment. He also stated that this regiment will probably be embarked today or tomorrow.

ILLINOIS REGIMENTS SWAP.

Springfield, August 6.—Governor Tanner has been advised that the Eighth Illinois infantry, colored, has been ordered to Santiago to replace the First Illinois, which has been ordered to Montauk Point.

NOTORIOUS HORSE THIEF CAUGHT.

Constable Dave Scott caught Bill Bass, colored, last night in the country near here. Bill had two horses and a wagon which Mr. Scott thinks are stolen. He also thinks Bill is the rogue who stole the buggy from a barn about three miles south of the city some time ago. Whether this is right or not remains to be seen, but Bill has a well earned reputation for horse, buggy and harness stealing and this case is likely to go hard with him.

Mr. Scott arrested him last night and drove the horses to Vanstony's stables where they will be kept until the owner can be found. Bill was placed in jail.

GOT LEFT.

A party of citizens who intended to go to Raleigh this morning on the excursion from Madison got left. They were waiting at the Southern depot and the train, which came in over the C. F. & Y. V., instead of backing up to the Southern track pulled over to the Southern track near Sergeant's foundry and went on to Raleigh. There were a dozen or fifteen badly disappointed people left standing at the depot.

Opportunity for Cupid.

Mr. Conrad is in town in the interest of his excursion to the Masonic picnic at Mocksville. This is the first opportunity given the Greensboro people to take in this delightful occasion. As Mr. Conrad has assumed the risk of loss to enable our people to take it in at a very low price it ought to be liberally patronized. The sumptuous dinner supplied by the good ladies of Davis which is had for only 25 cents is worth the price of the trip, while you will get many dollars worth of solid pleasure. The report of the manner in which the American troops are received by the natives in Porto Rico and the delight with which they are embraced unfolds a tale. What a dazzling tribute to Spanish rule!

It seems that Secretary Alger has made a blunder in publishing the letter of Theodore Roosevelt. The impression prevails that Roosevelt's letter was entirely a confidential one and the propriety or impropriety of his remarks are almost overlooked and forgotten in the universal criticism and condemnation of Secretary Alger for rushing into print with it.

It is hard to understand the dilatoriness of the Spanish statesmen. Their easy going gait is wonderful. They seem in no hurry whatever to bring the war to a close. Their men are starving and their armies are being defeated at every engagement and yet they seem to heed it not. The loss of their fleets seem to "cut little ice." They seem to set about peace negotiations slowly and with an amazing show of dignity.

A Wayne county man writes to the papers to indignantly deny that he was ever connected with the penitentiary as an official. He says that he was merely an inmate. He is naturally offended at being classed with the men who have been mismanaging the institution.—Durham Record.

We congratulate Wayne county. The stigma placed on that good old county is partly removed by the information that she has furnished men for the penitentiary, who, while there, were in no way connected with the mismanagement and lawlessness of the swapped off superintendent who, also, is from Wayne!

Theodore Roosevelt is ambitious and wants all the glory and fame out of this war which it is possible for him to achieve. That fact may, and no doubt did, have something to do with his claim that 4,000 of his men, the Rough Riders, were equal to 10,000 men of the regular army. But in judging him and the probable truth of his statement we must do him the justice to note that he qualified the statement by adding "when the regulars are armed with archaic (old-fashioned) weapons and black powder." Roosevelt's men have the finest modern guns. His statement, therefore, cannot mean that his men possess vastly superior fighting qualities to the other soldiers. They are better equipped and to this fact he gives due credit.

THEY ALL FAVOR PEACE.

Yet Castelar Would Have Every Effort Made to Hold Porto Rico.

Madrid, August 5.—Noon.—The conference between the political leaders on the subject of the peace terms continue. Senor Silveira, the conservative leader, acting on behalf of Senor Castelar, the republican leader, who was prevented by illness from being present, has conferred with the premier, Senor Sagasta, on the subject. He said Senor Castelar, although an advocate of peace, was of the opinion, that in negotiating its conclusion, the government "should remember the Virginus affair, when the energy displayed by Spain in dealing with the United States saved Spanish interests, and he thought every effort should be made to preserve Spanish sovereignty over Porto Rico."

Senor Silveira added that he personally did not favor any change of policy.

The Liberal, moderate republican, today publishes an interview with Marshal Martinez de Campos, who is quoted as saying:

"I openly favor peace. Everything that has happened in this war could have been foreseen, but the most pessimistic could never have imagined that our misfortunes would be so great—the destruction of Montijo's and Cervera's squadrons, the surrender of occupation of Porto Rico. No one could have imagined, even taking into consideration the superiority of the United States."

"Neither the present government, nor any other can change our situation. It would be madness to think of rejecting President McKinley's conditions. The liberal party can bring about peace, but, Sagasta should not be asked to sign it. Such a course would not be prudent and another Liberal Cabinet should be constructed."

Marshal Martinez de Campos, it is pointed out evidently referred to Senor Gamazo as the man who should succeed Senor Sagasta as Premier. Senor Gamazo is the present Minister of Public Instructions. His name has been frequently mentioned recently in connection with the Premiership, in the event of the formation of a new Cabinet.

"Don't Forget De Chicken."

Snow Hill, Md., August 3.—Somerset Dennis, colored, who will be hanged here August 12th for the murder of his stepfather in Pocomoke City last January, has written a letter to his mother, Hester Holland, which was sent to her today. He first speaks of having his picture taken for her, as she had requested and says: "Mr. Truitt (the jailer) says that he will try and have it done the day that they hang me." Then he goes on to say: "You said you was going to send me some chicken last week. The chicken has not come yet. If you are not going to send the chicken, please write and let me know and I won't look for it. My time is getting short here in this world. I want you to meet me in Heaven. Tell all the people that ask for me, tell them that I say to meet me in Heaven. Mother, if you are not going to send that chicken, please write and let me know. Please answer this letter. This is the last time I will write to you. I want you to come up here after me the day I am hung and carry me home. I would rather for you to do it. I want to be carried home."—Richmond Times.

Tumor in the Breast Cured

Six or seven years ago I had a lump so known to come in my breast which made it swell so much that it became so hard I could not make a dent in the breast. It was so painful and caused me to suffer so that some nights I could hardly turn in the bed or rest. Nothing did me any good, and I was very uneasy, not knowing how it would terminate. I used one-half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, without stopping on it, and it made a perfect cure of me. The lump disappeared gradually and I have never had any trouble from it since.

The Southern Cross.
After you have known the Southern Cross for awhile and get on speaking terms with it your respect for it grows. When we first met it, writes E. W. Harden to the Chicago Post, we were at sea and were keeping good hours. By 9 o'clock all of us would have turned in. When the Southern Cross first comes above the horizon, it lies over on its side, and it is not straight in the heavens until midnight. Of course none of us would sit up three hours to see the cross right itself in the heavens, and so we did not see it as it should be seen until one night in Colombo.

We had been out to dinner and did not go on board our ship until midnight. The moon had set, and we were rowed out from the landing wharf in one of those ethnological exhibit boats which the Ceylonese had at the World's fair, the outrigger kind. A big Pontiac and Oriental passenger ship was weighing its anchors as we passed, and as we got on the quarter deck of our ship the liner went by with hundreds of electric lights gleaming over the water. When it passed out of sight, we caught sight of the Southern Cross, high in the heavens, standing straight with our horizon, and it was as brilliant and as beautiful as we had been led to expect.

All Hands Abandon Ship!
A naval officer thus describes the realistic "All hands abandon ship" drill: "Two minutes after the word has been passed every ship's boat has swung from its davits into the water, and a minute later every boat is thoroughly provisioned and watered. Within four minutes, and often in much quicker time, every man of the ship's company, from the commanding officer down, is occupying the station in the boat called for by his ship's number, and then the command 'Stand off!' is given. The boats are hauled away a couple of hundred feet from the deserted vessel, and she rides without a human soul aboard her, often, when the drill is gone through in midocean, in a sea that the landman would account terrific.

"Then the word 'Board!' is passed, and within eight minutes at the most all hands are not only on board again, but every boat has been reloaded to the davits, all of the provisions, water, instruments and other gear have been removed, and the ship's company is in a fair way to get to sleep again."

Some Hard Senses.
Life is not a picnic. Of course, there can be lots of fun crowded into it, in a proper way, but on the whole it is a matter of hard and earnest work. The men who work the hardest are the happiest. Those who are happiest in their work are the most successful. Every liek you put in now will be of benefit hereafter. No matter what you pay me do the best that is within you.

We can't all get rich by lying on flower beds and one with each's right to win the prize or sell through each day with colors at the masthead and every yard of canvas set. Work is the most healthful, invigorating, tonic that poor human nature can help itself to. Remember that if you are well and busy you must, as a result, be happy.—Hardware.

Be Compelled.
Mr. Transient—Is this all the better you have in the house, Mrs. Oatcrer?
Mrs. Oatcrer—It is, Mr. Transient, and I wish you would try to make it go as far as you can.
Mr. Transient—With pleasure, Mrs. Oatcrer (opens window and throws butter against back fence). There, if it hadn't been for that fence, I could have made it go a little farther yet.—Boston Courier.

Not Unique.
"Madam," said the smooth spoken tramp, "I am not an ordinary hobo."
"Oh, I beg to know," said the eyesed housekeeper, as she eagerly peered down her husband's gun from the wall, "you're about the same as the rest of 'em. You can work, but you won't. Git." And he got.—Vine.

In Peking, China, so runneth the tale, a mandarin of wealth and taste presented a luminary of the stage with a pack of cards made of purpur skin 400 years old, and originally captured from a pirate of the most blood curdling sort.

The king of Greece, when conversing with the members of his family, never employs any but the English language. He seldom speaks French and only uses Greek when compelled to do so.

F. H. and Mrs. W. H. Brooks went to Raleigh this morning to visit Dr. W. H. Brooks at the Second Regiment hospital.

About one month ago my child which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. Boggess, Staunton, Gilmer Co., W. Va. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Shafter Didn't Do It.
Washington, Aug. 5.—Secretary of War Alger received a telegram from Gen. Shafter today in reply to the secretary's reprimand for giving to the press Kent's report and the letter of the officers on the condition of the army, in which Gen. Shafter says the report and the letters had been made public by other officers before he received them.

Electric Bitters.
Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A COMPLETE FARCE.

A Bad Show and a Disappointed Audience.

The cinegraph-stereopticon entertainment at the court house last night was a failure. It was advertised to be given under the auspices of the Emma Gray Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, and that fact brought out a fair sized audience.

The ladies, however, were deceived, and it cannot be said they were in any way responsible for the outcome. These good people feel very badly over it and the disappointment to them is much keener than to those who paid 35 cents to see a show which materialized only in a lot of pictures badly shown.

"Professor" Lomady, the operator, says the light was the cause of it all; but the Greensboro Gas and Electric Light Company, who furnished the light, say it was perfect. Their engineer and electrician was on hand all the time to watch the light and says it never flickered, and that it was bright and steady. In the stereopticon views a ship was shown and announced as the cruiser Baltimore; the same picture was reversed and called the battleship Texas. A bad light could hardly be held responsible for this attempted deception.

The truth of the business is the "professor" is not up to the business. He is the man who runs a beer saloon at Marienbad springs, near Winston, at whose place, according to the Winston papers, there was a dance on Tuesday night, accompanied by a drunken row in which the "Professor" had a beer bottle or glass broken over the side of his head and neck. He bears the scars now, and when he called at this office to advertise the show he explained to us how in attempting to cross a car track on a wheel he was thrown and received the cuts on his head and neck.

We mention these things to warn the unsuspecting against impostors and people who are not really meritorious and not simply to give "Professor" Lomady a black eye. A barkeeper is hardly a fit person to take charge of a missionary society entertainment and any such attempts should be exposed and denounced.

We repeat, the Emma Gray society cannot be blamed. They did not dream that an unworthy person would offer his services in a matter of that kind; and a man who would thus deceive good people merits nothing better than denunciation and contempt.
